

Peta Papas

Mini Biography about Peta Papas

Having worked both as artist and in the art business world, Peta's understands art as a vehicle to enrich thought, and present art to the public to encourage people to look hard, at what surrounds them. That artists can easily sell their art work directly to the public, is the driving force behind Peta's continuing dedicated good-will to exhibit young artist in alternative spaces other than galleries.

The concept of "The Instertices" maintains a direct contact between artists and public; without any commission.
